

Graduating Students Postsecondary and Workforce Ready: Leveraging Graduation Guidelines for Deeper Learning and Strategic Action

WHO: Teams of administrators and practitioners from schools and districts

WHAT: A free, interactive workshop on strategies for implementing Graduation Guidelines that lead to deeper learning and provide pathways to Postsecondary and Workforce success for each student.

- Learn from Colorado districts/schools that have used the state's Graduation Guidelines as a vehicle to transform their systems so that each student is prepared for success after high school;
- Hear from teachers, administrators, national experts, and students about how school can be more authentic, engaging, and tailored to meet the needs and interests of each learner;
- See exemplars of great work by Colorado schools and school districts;
- Interact with districts/schools representing Colorado's broad diversity of education systems.

WHEN: Monday, October 30, 2017
9:00 a.m. – 3:30 p.m.

WHERE: Adams 12 Conference Center
1500 E 128th AVE, Thornton, CO 80241

Colorado Education Initiative and Jobs for the Future, in partnership with CDE, are offering this workshop to provide a space for Colorado educators and partners to explore how a strategic approach to implementing graduation guidelines can promote deeper learning and ensure that Colorado's students are ready for the future. The Summit is offered free of cost thanks to generous funding by the William and Flora Hewlett Foundation.
