Proficiency Goal

Scenario 2

It is the start of a new school year and your new Spanish friend, Paco, has just returned home. You and Paco have promised to keep in touch. He is very curious about what school-life is like for you in the United States and wants to know all about your first few weeks at school. You've decided to make him a video so that you can show him as well as tell him about school in the US.

You decide to include the following in your presentation:

- Your school schedule (including which subjects and when)
- What your teachers are like
- What your classes are like
- Anything else you might want to add about your new schedule.

You may also want to describe to him what some of your friends from school are like and what you all like to do.
