MEMORANDUM

To: District Assessment Coordinators and ELA Directors/Coordinators
From: Joyce Zurkowski, Director of Student Assessment
Dr. Joanna Bruno, Director of Language, Culture, and Equity
Date: April 2012
RE: 2012 CELApro Guide to Test Interpretation

The CELApro Guide to Test Interpretation is available to all Colorado educators on the Colorado Department of Education (CDE) website at:

<http://www.cde.state.co.us/assessment/CELA-AdditionalResources.asp>

The Guide to Test Interpretation provides the following information:

- General overview of the CELApro technical qualities
- Assessment content descriptions
- CELApro score ranges, cut scores, and level descriptors per domain and grade

The Guide to Test Interpretation can be downloaded and printed for educational purposes. There is no limit on the number of copies made per district.

Please note after cut score review with input from Colorado educators, in 2009 the Colorado Department of Education determined that an overall score of Level 5 is required to be CELApro FEP (Fully English Proficient). Districts must consider a body of evidence, including a student's performance on the CELApro assessment, for re-designation of English Learners.

For further guidance refer to the CDE Guidebook on Designing, Delivering, and Evaluating Services for English Learners (ELs) at:

Introduction

This Guide to Test Interpretation provides information about the CELApro administered in 2012. The CELApro is the language proficiency assessment used as one data point in the body of evidence for classifying and monitoring the progress of English Learners (ELs) in the acquisition of English. This assessment measures social and academic language use in four major skill areas—Listening, Speaking, Reading, and Writing—along a continuum of five language development levels. These development levels are Level 1 (the lowest proficiency level), Level 2, Level 3, Level 4, and Level 5 (the highest proficiency level). The assessment takes into account the students' maturation and cognitive skills by providing age-appropriate tests covering the following grade spans: K, 1, 2, 3–5, 6–8, and 9–12.

The CELApro Guide to Test Interpretation is designed to

- Outline the features of the CELApro
- Provide CELApro English language development level descriptors
- Explain the use and interpretation of student reports

The CELApro test results are not to be used as the sole source for the designation of Not English Proficient (NEP), Limited English Proficient (LEP), or Fully English Proficient (FEP). A body of evidence must be used to determine a student's English language proficiency. Refer to the Guidebook on Designing, Delivering, and Evaluating Services for English Learners (ELs) on the Colorado Department of Education's website for guidance on using a body of evidence. However, please note, Colorado English Learners must obtain a CELApro overall score of Level 5 to achieve Objective 2 of the Annual Measurable Achievement Objectives (AMAO)—Attaining English Proficiency.

Features of the CELApro

Common Scale and Language Development Levels

The CELApro provides a means for tracking the progress of English Learners by representing the scores on a common scale, which allows for the comparison of scores from one grade span to another (e.g., from the Grades 6–8 test to the Grades 9–12 test).

The scale score for each skill area and the overall score are each represented by a three-digit number ranging from the lowest score possible to the highest score possible. Along each score continuum, score ranges are specified for five levels: Level 1, Level 2, Level 3, Level 4, and Level 5. However, it should be noted that the lowest and highest scores possible and the score ranges vary for each of the skill areas. In addition to individual scores for the four major skill areas, the CELApro provides a combined Listening and Speaking score (an Oral score) and a Comprehension score derived from the Listening and Reading scores.

Testing Time

The CELApro is flexible in that different sections can be administered at different times. Table 1 gives the estimated test administration time for each skill area.

TABLE 1: Testing Times

SKILL AREA	NO. OF ITEMS	SCORE POINTS	ITEM TYPE	ADMINISTRATION MODE	ESTIMATED ADMINISTRATION TIME
Speaking	20	41	DCR/CR	Individual	10 minutes
Listening	21	21	MC	Group	20 minutes
Reading	31 35	31 (Grade K) 35 (Grades 1–12)	MC	Group	35 minutes (Grade K) 45 minutes (Grades 1–12)
Writing	25	35 (Grades K and 1) 36 (Grades 2–12)	MC/CR	Group	35 minutes (Grades K and 1) 45 minutes (Grades 2–12)

DCR Dichotomous Constructed-Response Items

CR Constructed-Response Items

MC Multiple-Choice Items

Testing Format

The test consists of a combination of three different item formats:

- 1) Constructed-Response items are used in Speaking and Writing. Student responses are rated according to easy-to-use rubrics.
- 2) Multiple-Choice items are used in Listening, Reading, and Writing. Students choose from three or four responses.
- 3) Dichotomous Constructed-Response items are used in Speaking. Student responses are rated as Correct, Incorrect, or No Response.

Test Content and Scope

The CELApro has been structured to comprehensively assess the four language skills of Listening, Speaking, Reading, and Writing. Comprehension is assessed using selected Listening and Reading items. A combination of Dichotomous Constructed-Response (Correct or Incorrect), Constructed-Response, and Multiple-Choice items is used to provide diverse opportunities for students to demonstrate proficiency and to maintain reasonable testing times. Constructed-Response items are used to assess the productive domains of Speaking and Writing, whereas the Multiple-Choice items are used to assess the receptive domains of Listening and Reading. Multiple-Choice items are also used in the Writing Use Conventions subtest.

Test Description

The content of the CELApro uses language that has been selected for its appropriateness to specific grades and is typical of language that students encounter in the classroom. The content-rich subject matter is inherently appealing to students in both social and school environments.

TABLE 3: Colorado English Language Development Standards

Standard 1	English Language Learners listen for information and understanding, using a variety of sources, for academic and social purposes.
Standard 2	English Language Learners speak to convey information and understanding, using a variety of sources, for academic and social purposes.
Standard 3	English Language Learners read for information and understanding, using a variety of sources, for academic and social purposes.
Standard 4	English Language Learners write to convey information and understanding, using a variety of sources, for academic and social purposes.

Listening Test Description

The Listening test is usually administered to a group of students by a fluent English speaker who reads from the Examiner's Guide and uses the audio CD. The Listening test takes approximately 20 minutes per group to administer and consists of three subtests: Listen for Information, Listen in the Classroom, and Listen and Comprehend.

All Listening items are Multiple-Choice in format and measure general comprehension and inferential and critical thinking skills at a discourse level that integrates academic language. Students listen to classroom English to demonstrate language proficiency levels within each grade span. Analyzing students' mistakes can indicate areas in which students need instruction.

Listen for Information

In Listen for Information, students hear instructions typical of those provided by a classroom teacher. Instructions vary in length from one to three sentences and must be played from the audio CD. The instructions on the audio CD then ask students which of three answer choices restates the instructions they heard. Instructions and answers may contain idioms and different syntactical structures.

Listen in the Classroom

Listen in the Classroom assesses comprehension of academic language. Students hear three or four short exchanges (including sample items) typical of classroom discussions. The listening passages, questions, and text answer choices must be played from the audio CD. After listening, students respond to three questions about what they heard. Each question has three answer choices.

Listen and Comprehend

A longer listening passage included in Listen and Comprehend assesses comprehension of narratives. Questions ask about main ideas, details, inferences, and idioms. The listening passage, questions, and text answer choices must be played from the audio CD. Students are asked four questions about the passage. Each question has three answer choices.

Speaking Test Description

The Speaking test is individually administered by a fluent English speaker who reads the test questions to the student and points to illustrations. All items are in Constructed-Response format. The Speaking test takes approximately 10 minutes per student to administer and consists of four subtests: Speak in Words, Speak in Sentences, Make Conversation, and Tell a Story.

All Speaking items are performance-based in format and measure vocabulary, social and academic language, and more sophisticated, grammatically correct verbal expressions—focusing on the production of single-word responses as well as multiple sentences on a topic.

Speak in Words

In Speak in Words, the Examiner points to objects depicted in cue pictures and asks questions such as “What is this?” and “What is it used for?” Students respond with single words and short phrases to identify the objects and answer questions related to those objects. Responses are scored as Correct (C), Incorrect (I), or No Response (NR).

Speak in Sentences

In Speak in Sentences, students respond in complete sentences to describe activities or actions. The Examiner points to each cue picture and directs the student to respond to prompts such as “Tell me what is happening in the picture,” “Tell me exactly where the book is located,” and “Please give me clear directions on how to go from Place A to Place B.” Responses are scored on a 0–3 rubric.

Make Conversation

Students also respond in complete sentences in Make Conversation. However, instead of describing pictures, students respond to prompts from the Examiner such as “Tell someone to do something,” “Ask someone for something,” “Describe how to do something,” or “Explain why we do something.” Responses are scored on a 0–3 rubric.

Tell a Story

In Tell a Story, students produce multiple sentences explaining what is happening in a series of four pictures. The pictures illustrate a story with a beginning, a middle, and an end. Pointing to the series of four pictures, the Examiner begins the story by reading a story starter to contextualize the pictures without giving away vocabulary or key content. Responses are scored on a 0–4 rubric.

Reading Test Description

The Reading test is usually administered to a group by a fluent English speaker who reads from the Examiner's Guide. The Reading test takes approximately 35–45 minutes to administer and consists of three subtests: Analyze Words, Read Words, and Read for Understanding.

All Reading items are Multiple-Choice in format. Some items evaluate phonemic awareness as the basis for recognizing words and developing vocabulary. In other items, students use grade-appropriate literary and informational texts to demonstrate sentence-level reading ability and inferential skills.

Analyze Words

In Analyze Words, students respond to discrete items in a variety of formats that address four word-analysis tasks: identifying rhyming words, applying letter-sound relationships to read English words, applying letter-sound relationships to read English phonemes, and applying knowledge of morphemes and syntax to word meaning. Each question has three answer choices.

Read Words

For Grades K–2, students demonstrate vocabulary by classifying words, selecting written words to match those spoken by the Examiner, matching pictures of objects to their written descriptions, and finding synonyms for written words. In Grades 3–5, students demonstrate vocabulary by choosing synonyms of given words and choosing words that correctly complete sentences. In all other grade levels, students demonstrate vocabulary by choosing synonyms or antonyms of given words and choosing words that correctly complete sentences. Additionally, students in Grades 6–12 are tested on idiomatic expressions. Each question has three answer choices.

Read for Understanding

Higher-level reading skills are evaluated in Read for Understanding, in which students respond to passages representing various genres (e.g., fiction, nonfiction, and poetry). Questions address three tasks: demonstrating reading comprehension, identifying important literary features of text, and applying learning strategies to interpretation. Students in Kindergarten read along as the Examiner reads passages aloud and then identify one of three picture choices that corresponds with the reading passage. Students in Grades 1 and 2 read two additional passages independently. Students in Grades 3–12 read passages without assistance and select from written answer choices.

Writing Test Description

The Writing test is usually administered to a group by a fluent English speaker who reads from the Examiner's Guide. The test takes approximately 35–45 minutes to administer and consists of four subtests: Use Conventions, Write About, Write Why, and Write in Detail. Students in Grades K and 1 do not take Write in Detail.

The test includes both Multiple-Choice and Constructed-Response items that assess both receptive and productive domains. The first items require students to identify appropriate grammar, mechanics, and syntax, while subsequent items prompt students to respond in phrases, sentences, and paragraphs. Responses are evaluated for language usage and fluency. Constructed-Response items within the Writing test are not concerned with measuring factual knowledge, but focus instead on knowledge of English grammar and the appropriate use of discourse.

Use Conventions

Discrete items in Use Conventions assess how students use grammar, capitalization, punctuation, and sentence structure. Each item has three answer choices.

Write About

In Write About, students in Grades K and 1 write one sentence and students in Grades 2–12 write two sentences to describe a picture. Responses are scored on a 0–3 rubric.

Write Why

In Write Why, students make a choice between two alternatives and write to explain the choice they make. In Grades K and 1, students write one reason; in Grades 2–12, students write two reasons. Responses are scored on a 0–3 rubric.

Write in Detail

Prompts in Write in Detail elicit longer responses. Students in Grade 2 write to describe what is happening in a sequence of four pictures. Students in Grades 3–12 organize their ideas and write sentences in response to a written prompt. Responses are scored on a 0–4 rubric. Students in Grades K and 1 do not take Write in Detail.

CELApro English Language Development Level Descriptors

The CELApro English Language Development Level Descriptors that follow are intended to provide a more specific understanding of students' abilities in English at each grade range in each of the main skill areas: Listening, Speaking, Reading, and Writing. These detailed explanations of what skills a student can be expected to demonstrate at each level are meant to give teachers a helpful profile of a student's performance on the CELApro and are a resource for helping the student take the next steps along the language acquisition continuum. Because these descriptions correspond to cut scores for five levels, use discretion when examining students' English language abilities in relation to the CELApro cut scores.

(Please see Tables 18–23.)

TABLE 18: CELApro English Language Development Level Descriptors for Kindergarten

	Speaking			Reading			Writing
Level 5	Level 5 students typically recall minor details in an oral story, recall a stated sequence of events in an oral story, determine the main idea of an oral story	Level 5 students typically interact and make requests with few, if any, errors in vocabulary and grammar, describe familiar social situations with few, if any, errors, describe a process in complete sentences with only age-appropriate errors in vocabulary and grammar that do not interfere with communication, tell a simple story with native-like vocabulary and grammar appropriate to the age	Level 5 students typically identify less-frequent rhyming words, use context clues to determine meanings of words	Level 5 students typically describe a picture with a complete sentence containing minor errors in grammar, vocabulary, and mechanics, recognize correct verb form, tense, and subject/verb agreement, recognize regular plural nouns
Level 4	Level 4 students typically distinguish the location of an object in relation to another object, recall stated details in an oral story, make simple inferences	Level 4 students typically interact and make requests in social and academic settings using sentences and vocabulary with minor errors that do not interfere with communication, produce accurate labels for less-common objects in social situations, describe precisely the purpose of common objects in social situations, describe a school-related process using appropriate words and complete sentences with some errors in vocabulary and grammar that do not interfere with communication, tell a simple story with mostly correct vocabulary and simple, mostly accurate grammar	Level 4 students typically discriminate between initial and final sounds in words, identify frequently used rhyming words, match words to definitions or descriptions, recall events in a story read aloud, read simple sentences independently	Level 4 students typically describe a picture with a minimal simple phrase or sentence containing multiple grammatical and/or mechanical errors that do not impede understanding
Level 3	Level 3 students typically distinguish between letters, words, shapes, and/or numbers, determine described locations	Level 3 students typically interact and make requests in social and academic settings using simple sentences with frequent errors that do not interfere with communication, produce accurate labels for common objects and describe common functions, describe social situations using sentences with frequent errors that do not interfere with communication	Level 3 students typically identify final sounds in words, identify words read aloud, decode basic short-vowel words, match words to pictures, recall stated details in a passage read aloud	Level 3 students typically generate a word to describe a picture
Level 2	Level 2 students typically follow simple oral directions using knowledge of everyday tasks and academic vocabulary, identify basic shapes, letters, numbers, and common locations	Level 2 students typically use vocabulary for common objects in social and academic situations, describe situations using words and phrases, tell a story based on pictures of a familiar situation using basic vocabulary and phrases	Level 2 students typically identify capital and lowercase letters in isolation, identify high-frequency initial sounds in words	Level 2 students typically copy a word from the prompt to describe a picture
Level 1	Level 1 students are beginning to develop receptive skills in English, may understand some high-frequency words and phrases	Level 1 students are beginning to develop productive skills in English, may produce some high-frequency words and phrases	Level 1 students are beginning to develop receptive skills in English, may understand some high-frequency words and phrases	Level 1 students are beginning to develop productive skills in English, may produce some high-frequency words and phrases

Student Reports

Testing large groups of students produces considerable data. Test results are most useful when they are organized in a way that allows educators to focus on the information relevant to them. Reports for the CELApro are designed to meet this need by making it easier to use test results for educational planning. Figure 1 is an example of a commonly used report.
